

CALL FOR PAPERS

YOUTH ENTERPRISE JOURNAL Volume 1 – Issue 2

Submission deadline: 30 November 2009

The Youth Enterprise Journal (YEJ) is a publication of the National Youth Development Agency (NYDA) that gathers and provides knowledge on supporting and developing young entrepreneurs and their enterprises. The YEJ acts as a key resource for the enterprise development sector.

INVITATION TO SUBMIT A PAPER

The theme of the second issue is “Co-operative and Micro-enterprise development”. The development and support of co-operatives and micro-enterprises has been recognised by many as a promising socio-economic development instrument. The second issue of the Youth Enterprise Journal is inviting papers (maximum 5,000) on co-operative and micro-enterprise development. These can be exploratory, research, policy and programme papers. Suggested topics are:

- ◆ Enabling strategies: training and capacity building
- ◆ Best practices and lessons learned in micro-finance and cooperatives
- ◆ Viable sectors for cooperatives and micro-enterprises
- ◆ What works? Development services for co-operatives and micro-enterprises
- ◆ unpacking policy and legislation – micro-enterprise and cooperatives
- ◆ Rural development and micro financing
- ◆ Linking co-operatives and micro-enterprises to commercial opportunities
- ◆ Supplier development programmes for micro-enterprises and cooperatives
- ◆ Youth owned and managed co-operatives and micro-enterprises
- ◆ Building the innovation, sustainability of co-operatives and micro-enterprises
